

Auto On-Ramp	The Auto On-Ramp fills the need for a place where auto enthusiasts can meet and discuss their passion for automobiles. Our concern is not only cars, but the people that love and drive them.
Automotive Aluminum	Offers resources on all things associated with automotive aluminum: applications, safety and performance, environment and recycling, design and engineering.
Automotive Body Repair News	A monthly trade publication serving the collision repair industry. The editorial content is aimed primarily at the collision repair shop owner and his or her technicians. Provides news, product and technical service information on a variety of collision repair topics.
Automotive Service Association	This site is dedicated to advancing professionalism and excellence in the automotive industry. Includes tips on automotive care, employment opportunities and AutoInc. online magazine.
AutomotiveTechs.com	An automotive employment site on the Web. Check it out!
Autopedia	Links to everything you ever wanted to know about all kinds of automobiles, including information on paint problems and technical service bulletins.
AutoSteel Online	From the American Iron and Steel institute, this Website provides plenty of information on ultralight steels, research, technical information and news. Worth a visit.
Bodyshop Business	An online automotive service community bringing together consumers with service providers and service providers with suppliers.
Car and Driver	This is a major resource for information on new and used cars, driving, reviews, etc.
Collision Repair Insight	A good source for up-to-date news and research on the collision repair industry.
I-CAR Online	Focuses on certified continuing education for collision repair specialists.
International Autobody Congress &amp; Exposition	Visit here for access to conference and event information, idea exchange as well as numerous industry resources.
International Mobile Air Conditioning Association	This site shows a not-for-profit trade association that provides Technician Certification Information related to mobile air conditioning.
Mobile Air Conditioning Society (MACS)	Operates as the leading forum for its specialized segment of the automotive aftermarket. MACS' purpose is to fill the industry's need for comprehensive technical information, training and communication.
National Automotive Technicians Education Foundation	Everything you every wanted to know about certifying automotive technician programs.
National Glass Association	A Website that represents the American automotive glass industry, by providing education and information, promoting safety and ethics as well as protecting industry interests.
National Highway Traffic Safety Administration	Created by Congress in 1970 to reduce the human and economic toll from motor vehicle crashes. Investigates safety defects in vehicles, posts regulations and standards, notes problems and issues as well as providing test results. This Web site is loaded with helpful data and advice.
National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence	Communicates its message, of improving the quality of automotive service and repair through the voluntary testing and certification of automotive technicians, to consumers, the media and various other publics to promote informed decision making when seeking automotive repairs.
Sherwin-Williams Automotive Finishes	There's a lot to be learned from this Web site, especially about applying finishes to all kinds of vehicles. Includes a forecast for painting conditions in any city, state or zip code.